

Call for Applications

Marilena Laskaridis Visiting Research Fellowships in Modern Greek Studies

The Faculty of Humanities at the University of Amsterdam invites applications for three (3) visiting research fellowships in the field of Modern Greek Studies for early- and mid-career scholars who wish to pursue (part of) their research at the University of Amsterdam. For the academic year 2019-2020, 1 fellowship will be offered for a period of 8 months and 2 fellowships for a period of 4 months each.

The fellowships are sponsored by the Aikaterini Laskaridis Foundation, which is also the main sponsor of the Marilena Laskaridis Chair of Modern Greek Studies at the University of Amsterdam, held by Prof. Dr. Maria Boletsi.

These fellowships will be offered annually on a competitive basis and by application. The fellowships aim to strengthen research in the field of Modern Greek studies at the University of Amsterdam and internationally, encourage academic collaborations and exchanges, and give the opportunity to either young or more experienced scholars in this field to further their research. For the academic year 2019-2020 the fellowships will be offered to early- and mid-career scholars (with a Ph.D. not earlier than 2011).

Who can apply?

Early- or mid- career scholars who wish to carry out part of their research in the field of Modern Greek Studies at the University of Amsterdam. The call is open to projects from all disciplines in the humanities and/or social sciences that engage with aspects of Modern Greek culture and/or history. Scholars pursuing comparative projects that may not focus (exclusively) on Greece but situate Modern Greek culture in broader, transnational contexts are also encouraged to apply. The call for applications is open both for scholars affiliated with other academic institutions (e.g., universities or research institutes) and independent scholars with a Ph.D.

To be considered eligible for these fellowships, the following criteria apply:

- Applicants must have acquired their Ph.D. not earlier than 2011
- Applicants must submit an application along with all the required documents listed under “application procedure” before the provided deadline: March 31, 2019.

About the fellowships

- The duration is 8 months for 1 fellowship and 4 months for 2 fellowships to be spent at the University of Amsterdam. The 8-month fellowship will be from 1 September 2019 to 30 April 2020 or from 1 October 2019 to 31 May (depending on the applicant's availability). The 4-month fellowships will be from 1 September to 31 December 2019 and/or from 1 February to 31 May 2020. The fellowships offer a total amount of 12.000€ (for the 8-month fellowship) and 6.000€ (for the 4-month fellowship) as a stipend by the Laskaridis Foundation to the fellow (1.500 € per month), with the purpose of covering accommodation, travel, and other living expenses during the period of the fellowship.
- The fellows are expected to be in Amsterdam for the duration of the fellowship and devote their time to research and writing related to their proposed project. The fellows are also expected to give at least one lecture, collaborate with other colleagues at the University of Amsterdam and participate in activities of the Modern Greek Language and Culture group and, more generally, in the intellectual life of the university.
- The fellows are required to agree to the Netherlands Code of Conduct for Research Integrity (https://www.vsnul.nl/en_GB/research-integrity)
- The research conducted during the period of the fellowship should lead to a concrete output in the form of (part of) a book, scientific article, grant proposal and/or other (to be specified in the application). Applicants are also asked to demonstrate how they intend to contribute to the wider dissemination of the results of their research. At the end of the term of the fellowship, the fellows are asked to submit a report on the research and scholarly activities undertaken during the fellowship. The fellows are also asked to acknowledge the fellowship and its sponsor in any publication resulting from research made possible through the fellowship.
- The fellowship does NOT constitute an employment relationship with the University of Amsterdam. If the fellow already has another academic position, the fellow remains an employee of his or her own university or institute. The University of Amsterdam will thus not make social insurance contributions or contribute to pension or other insurances.
- The University of Amsterdam will provide the fellows with office space as well as access to university facilities and library resources.
- Fellows are responsible for arranging their accommodation, but the University can offer assistance in finding accommodation through the University Housing Service.

Application procedure

Applicants are requested to submit the following documents by 31 March 2019 as an email attachment in one PDF file to the following email address: AIHR-fgw@uva.nl:

- A research proposal of max. 1500 words including the following sections: a) summary of proposed project b) description of project and objectives c) methodology d) intended academic output and knowledge dissemination e) time-frame for the proposed research
- A motivation letter (max. 350 words) laying out the reasons for wishing to pursue this research project in the Netherlands and at the University of Amsterdam
- A CV that follows the provided format.
- 1 letter of reference to be sent by email NOT by the applicant but directly by the referent to the above email address.

All submitted documents must be in English and should be submitted in one PDF file (with the exception of the letter of reference, to be sent by the referent directly).

Applicants must indicate and motivate clearly in their application whether they are applying for the 8-month or the 4-month fellowship.

Candidates applying for the 4-month fellowship are required to indicate whether they would be available in the fall or spring semester or both. In case an applicant would be available in both semesters, s/he can state their preference in the application.

Applications that meet all the formal criteria will be reviewed by an interdisciplinary group of senior scholars at the University of Amsterdam. Not all members of the selection committee will have expertise in Modern Greek studies.

The successful applicants will be announced in the first half of May 2019.

Selection criteria

Applications will be evaluated based on:

- The scientific quality and originality of the proposed research
- The quality of the applicant's CV
- The feasibility of the proposed research within the given time-frame
- Motivation and specific reasons for wishing to conduct the proposed project in the Netherlands and at the University of Amsterdam
