Marilena Laskaridis Visiting Research Fellowships in Modern Greek Studies

The Faculty of Humanities at the University of Amsterdam invites applications for one (1) visiting research fellowship in the field of Modern Greek Studies for an early-career scholar who wishes to pursue part of their research at the University of Amsterdam. Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. For the academic year 2026-2027, one fellowship will be offered to an early-career scholar (with a Ph.D. not earlier than 2020) for a period of 5 months.

The fellowship is sponsored by the Aikaterini Laskaridis Foundation, which is also the main sponsor of the Marilena Laskaridis Chair of Modern Greek Studies at the University of Amsterdam, held by Prof. Dr. Maria Boletsi.

These fellowships are offered annually on a competitive basis and by application. The fellowships aim to strengthen research in the field of Modern Greek studies at the University of Amsterdam and internationally, encourage academic collaborations and exchanges, and give the opportunity to scholars in this field to advance their research.

Who can apply?

Early-career scholars with a Ph.D. who wish to carry out part of their research in the field of Modern Greek Studies at the University of Amsterdam. The call is open to projects from all disciplines in the humanities and/or social sciences that engage with aspects of Modern Greek culture and/or history since the 18th century. Scholars pursuing comparative projects that do not focus (exclusively) on Greece but situate Modern Greek culture in broader, transnational contexts are also encouraged to apply. The call for applications is open both for scholars affiliated with other academic institutions (e.g., universities or research institutes) and independent scholars with a Ph.D.

To be considered eligible for this fellowship, the following criteria apply:

- Applicants must have acquired their Ph.D. not earlier than 2020
- Applicants must submit an application along with all the required documents listed under “application procedure” before the provided deadline: March 2, 2026.

About the fellowships

- The duration for the fellowship is 5 months, to be spent at the University of

- Amsterdam. The fellow can decide to spend a term at the University of Amsterdam from 1 September 2026 to 31 January 2027 or from 1 February 2027 to 30 June 2027 (the starting date can be slightly adjusted depending on the applicant's availability). The fellowship offers a total amount of 8.500€ as a stipend by the Laskaridis Foundation to the fellow (1.700€ per month), with the purpose of covering accommodation, travel, and other basic living expenses during the period of the fellowship.
- The fellow is expected to be in Amsterdam for the duration of the fellowship and devote their time to research and writing related to their proposed project. The fellow is also expected to give at least one lecture, collaborate with other colleagues at the University of Amsterdam and participate in activities of the Modern Greek Language and Culture group and, more generally, in the intellectual life of the university.
  - The fellow is required to agree to the Netherlands Code of Conduct for Research Integrity (https://www.vsnu.nl/en\_GB/research-integrity)
  - The research conducted during the period of the fellowship should lead to a concrete output in the form of (part of) a book, scientific article, grant proposal and/or other (to be specified in the application). At the end of the term of the fellowship, the fellow is asked to submit a report on the research and scholarly activities undertaken during the fellowship. The fellow is also asked to acknowledge the fellowship and its sponsor in any publication resulting from research made possible through the fellowship.
  - The fellowship does NOT constitute an employment relationship with the University of Amsterdam. If the fellow already has another academic position, the fellow remains an employee of their own university or institute. The University of Amsterdam will thus not make social insurance contributions or contribute to pension or other insurances.
  - The University of Amsterdam will provide the fellow with office space as well as access to university facilities and library resources.
  - The fellow is responsible for arranging their accommodation, but the University can offer assistance in finding accommodation through the University Housing Service.

Application procedure

Applicants are requested to submit the following documents by 1 March 2026 as an email attachment in one PDF file to the following email address: AIHR-fgw@uva.nl

- A research proposal of max. 1500 words including the following sections: a) summary of proposed project b) description of project and objectives c) methodology d) intended output e) time-frame for the proposed research
- A motivation letter (max. 350 words) laying out the reasons for wishing to pursue this research project in the Netherlands and at the University of Amsterdam.

- A CV that follows the provided format.
- 1 letter of reference to be sent by email NOT by the applicant but directly by the referent to the above email address.

All submitted documents must be in English and should be submitted in one PDF file (with the exception of the letter of reference, to be sent by the referent directly).

Candidates are required to indicate whether they would be available in the fall or spring semester or both. In case an applicant would be available in both semesters, they can state their preference in the application.

Applications that meet all the formal criteria will be reviewed by an interdisciplinary group of senior scholars at the University of Amsterdam. Not all members of the selection committee will have expertise in Modern Greek studies.

Applicants will be notified about the results of the selection procedure by early April 2026.

Selection criteria

Applications will be evaluated based on:

- The scientific quality and originality of the proposed research
- The quality of the applicant's CV
- The feasibility of the proposed research within the given time-frame
- Motivation and specific reasons for wishing to conduct the proposed project in the Netherlands and at the University of Amsterdam
